Wings Press

Wings Press was founded in 1975. Its publisher, editor and designer since 1995, Bryce Milligan, strives to produce multicultural books, ebooks, fine chapbooks and broadsides that enlighten the human spirit and enliven the mind. All those ever associated with Wings have been or are writers, and they recognize writing as a transformational form capable of changing the world, primarily by allowing people to glimpse something of each other's souls. Good writing is innovative, insightful, broadminded and interesting. But most of all it is honest. Likewise, Wings Press is committed to treating the planet itself as a partner. Thus the press uses as much recycled material as possible, from the paper on which the books are printed to the boxes in which they are shipped. All inks are soy and vegetable-based.

New and Forthcoming Titles from Wings Press

Blood Flower* (2015)

Pam Uschuk

Sean Thomas Dougherty writes, "Like Lorca, Uschuk is a poet of the duende ... she views the poem as a vehicle for fierce engagement with the body and its social realities, often with a metaphysical awareness that transcends and extends the corporeal into the natural world.... This is an ecological poetics of engagement, a mythic poetry—part Lorca, part Rachel Carson."

The Calculus of Falling Bodies* (2015)

Geoff Rips

"I know what I have, but not how to hold it," writes Geoff Rips in his first full-length poetry collection. These poems span 40 years during which the journalist-poet has undertaken a deeply personal attempt to understand the "mystery of things." They parallel his interest in the greater world but burrow deep inside his own psyche in the attempt to find meaning. This is the whole of life, seen by looking closely at its parts.

Her Texas: Story, Image, Poem & Song* (2015)

Donna Walker-Nixon

Her Texas is the most important anthology of Texas writers in a generation. Multicultural and multidisciplinary, it includes stories, essays, memoirs, poetry, song lyrics, paintings, and photographs by 60 Texas women.
